Jamie McGovern Family

Jamie McGovern was diagnosed with Stage 4 stomach cancer in March of '09. The tumor metastasized into his liver, esophagus, lymph nodes and 7 places in his chest. He fought through 12 regimens of chemo, always believing that he could win the battle... even when his doctors gave up hope. At the end, he was given the amazing news that his organs were cancer free. However, in January, more cancer was found on his ribs. He is now enduring another 5 regimens of chemo.

So the "fight for life" begins again for Jamie and his family - Brady, Kevin and Shannon. We feel blessed to have the resources and friends like you to join in along with his family to help fight...his fight for life.

(The Keys family grew up with the McGovern family in St. Paul. One of Jamie's many accomplishments was the founding of Patrick McGovern's along with his friend Pat Boemer.)
